DIARIES 2018

AGENDA

YOU MAKE MY DAY

Time management

- Good time management reduces stress.
- Those who are good at time management work more prudently and efficiently
- Good planning means that others can work more comfortably, because they know where they stand.

Good time management means that you set priorities and plan activities realistically. Not everything can be done at once or needs to be done at the same time.

The paper diary is still a tactile product. The 'look and feel' of the cover and the layout is an extension of your personality. Besides functional and necessary planning, it is also a diary full of personal reflections. Diaries, like blogs, are often kept for years and are partly reread. In fact, many go for the same type of diary year after year, where each piece of information has its place, and where the content is recognisable.

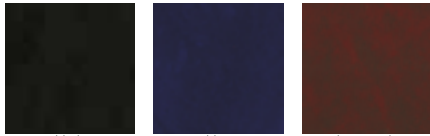

Did you know, by the way, that recent British research shows that the average life of a smartphone is 15 months these days? So just over a year. One third of the units break down. Especially water damage and shock or fall damage are fatal for smartphones. One seventh of the phones is lost or stolen.

The smartphone, Outlook and other applications are almost indispensable in our lives, but we prefer an AURORA diary as our diary and personal planner.
